

Infoblox is announcing the End-of-Life (EOL) plan and Last Order Date (LOD) for RADIUSone. The Last Order Date for RADIUSone is March 30, 2007. Those customers contemplating purchase of the RADIUSone must complete their order no later than March 30, 2007.

RADIUSone Support and Maintenance Policy

Infoblox provides support for standard hardware systems for up to three (3) years from the Last Order Date. This means that Infoblox will continue to provide maintenance and support contracts for the RADIUSone until March 30, 2010.

All products being discontinued are typically identified as such on the price list for 90 days prior to Last Order Date. At LOD, discontinued products are removed from the price list and are no longer available for purchase. Support for discontinued products is provided only to customers who purchased a support contract prior to the removal of the product and services from the Infoblox price list or who converted their new product warranty coverage to a support contract prior to expiration of the standard warranty.

Note: Only products that are covered by a current Infoblox maintenance contract are eligible for renewal.

Replacement units provided during the EOL period may not be identical to systems purchased prior to product discontinuation. It is possible that replacement units may require customers to implement network changes (such as reconfiguration, software updates, and hardware upgrades) and may affect service pricing when the support contract is renewed.
